AUTO THIEVES CAPTURED AT JAMESTOWN

CAR OWNED BY H. H. REDFIELD WAS STOLEN AT MIDNIGHT FRIDAY—ANOTHER CAR BELONGING TO MR. W. S. STEARNS OF MEADVILLE, PA., WAS STOLEN MONDAY NIGHT.

SMETHPORT OFFICERS BROUGHT PRISONERS HERE

Smethport was furnished a real thrill Saturday morning by the news that some time after midnight during the preceding night the handsome Studebaker sedan car, owned by H. H. Redfield, had been stolen from the garage in the rear of his home. Shortly afterward the matter was complicated by the announcement that a strange car had been found abandoned on King Street, near the residence of W. F. Specht.

Borough and county officials immediately got into touch with surrounding communities and the alarm was given, together with an accurate description of the missing car. In the meantime, Mr. Redfield, Chief of Police Dickinson, and a party of interested citizens visited the car that has apparently been left by the auto thieves.

[illegible] abandoned car was [illegible] grocery bill made out to the same person. In as much as Chief Dickinson had already received from Meadville a description of a car stolen Monday night from that place, which tallied exactly with the car found here, Mr. Stearns—was notified, and coming on from Meadville Sunday morning, he identified his automobile and immediately made such repairs as to put it in running order.

In the meantime, word telephoned for miles around had led indirectly to the arrest of the car thieves in Jamestown, where, after a collision with a heavy truck in the city streets, they had abandoned the Redfield car, but not before good descriptions had been secured of the occupants of the car. Arrest followed immediately, the Smethport officers were notified, and the prisoners were brought to the County jail Sunday night.

A hearing was held for the arrested men Monday morning before Justice of the Peace Gleason. It is perhaps incorrect to call men as the oldest of the gang, a good-looking American by the name of Kightlinger, who gives Salamanca as his home, is but nineteen and the other two are seventeen.

On the trip here from Jamestown the county officers stopped at Salamanca for the purpose of looking up the records of Kightlinger and also of Jagcacks, who callmed that city as his home. There it was found that both young men had anything but creditable records, both having done time for various offences at least twice before. Both, however, and particularly Kightlinger, appeared perfectly willing to tell everything about their theft, seeming to care little what might be done to them.

It was a different matter, however, with the third prisoner, Marino, who disclaimed all knowledge about the affair, saying that he had never before ridden with these two, and in fact had never seen them before he was picked up in Jamestown. He is apparently a hard customer, judged both from his looks and from the fact that a fine pocket-size edition of a 25-caliber pistol was found in in his possession. He has consistently refused to talk and it will be the testimony of

MacSWINEY DEAD AFTER SEVENTY-THREE DAYS FAST

London, October 25.—(By the Associated Press).—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, died at Brixton prison, this city at 5:40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than 73 days, eclipsing [illegible] his faculties before he died. Father Dominic, his private chaplin, and his brother, John MacSwiney, were with him when the end came. Father Dominic was at the prison all night and did not leave until several hours after MacSwiney breathed his last.

Another Story About H. Smith

There is a persistent rumor about that the comet-like career of Herbert Smith of Crosby, whose many adventures in civil and military life for the past several years have furnished interesting reading for the community has come to an end in Erie, Pa. Mrs. Smith, the mother of the boy, has been called to Erie by the police authorities to identify the body of a murdered man there.

One of Herbert's relatives states that over the telephone Mrs. Smith was informed that the body has every evidence of the roughest treatment. A deep mark in the head is evidence that death was brought about by a hammer-blow. The murderer or murderers then attempted to hide their crime by covering the body with gasoline and setting it on fire in the hope that there would remain no chance of its identification. The body was then buried as that of the son of an Erie woman; but since then the son having turned up, the body was removed from the grave, and in one of the pockets of the coat were found letters which gave the authorities reason to believe it is Herbert.

The whole story seems to be too wild to be true, and yet so many incidents almost equally wild have been crowded into his life that this may be found to be true too.

About Two Hundred and Fifty Teachers Here

The teachers of McKean County are assembled here this week to attend the annual institute. The enrollment is about average totaling in the neighborhood of 225. Especially fine instruction being furnished by a capable corps and the evening entertainments are of high order. Next week's Miner will give a complete summary of the week's proceedings.

12,000 Women Hear Harding's Address on Social Justice

Twelve thousand women from all parts of the United States went to Marion to hear Senator Harding's address on social justice in which he urged the creation of a Federal Department of Public Welfare to function in defense of maternity, childhood and public health.

Smethport Will Have a 3-Day Chautauqua

We Have Secured the Greatest Talent the Swarthmore Can Produce—Here are the Dates November 15 to 17.

Considerable work on the part of a number of citizens who are really interested in Smethport's cultural advancement has made possible the [illegible] days, November [illegible]. The talent under a [illegible] is being furnished by the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association of Swarthmore, Pa.

Smethport wants good entertainment so we have gone out of our way to secure it for the theater goers.

The officers of the informal organization under whose auspices the local chautauqua will be held are:

President, H. J. Rice; vice president, C. W. Lillibridge; secretary, P. S. Crossman; treasurer, S. F. Redfield; advertising manager, W. P. Mitchell; hostess, Mrs. S. F. Redfield.

All sessions during the three days will be held in the Lyceum which because of the unquestionable merit of the programs will undoubtedly be filled to its capacity.

The various programs are guaranteed to rank as high as any that have appeared on similar occasions here before, the Swarthmore Chautauqua, of which Miss Edna Freeman is a representative, is a rapidly growing institution with a reputation for living up to their word in every respect, as is proven by the number of towns which annually are supplied by their circuit.

The talent billed for Smethport may be described as hand-picked, for only the very best of the acts on the large list offered for selection by this lyceum bureau have been chosen to appear here. More extended notice will appear in the next issue of the MINER as space makes this impossible this week. The program, however, is printed complete so that the community may realize to some extent the treat that has been prepared for them.

Tickets for all the sessions of the three days are to be offered for $1.00 and will be on sale shortly. In as much as the admission price for each afternoon's entertainment is 50 cents and for each evening's 75 cents, totalling $3.75 for the three days, the advisability of buying a season ticket becomes at once apparent. The public should bear in mind the fact that none will be available after November 14th.

Conopians Plan Interesting Time

Next Monday evening the Conopus Club has arranged for a particularly interesting and worth-while meeting. The Priscilla Club of the Methodist Episcopal Church is to serve a fine banquet to members of the club and their ladies in the beautiful basement of the church, and the Rev. Arthur Gregson has been prevailed upon to lecture on conditions in England.

Mr. Gregson's words will carry considerable weight by reason of the fact that he has but recently returned from a ten week's vacation spent in that country, in and about his old home there. It is indeed unfortunate that the opportunity to profit by this unusual opportunity to learn at first these vital facts is not more general, but undoubtedly an occasion will be made to offer itself later.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The ordination of Rev. Noble I. Mack will take place next week Wednesday, November 3 in the Baptist Church. Rev. G. H. Carr of Ulysses, Pa., will preach the ordination sermon at 8 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

The Woman's American Baptist Foreign and Home Missionary societies will hold a meeting in the Baptist Church on Friday, November 5, at 2:30 o'clock. During next week the two societies will make a drive for new members and it is hoped that they will meet with good success. They end up their drive with a program on Friday afternoon and a good attendance is very much desired. Come and bring your friends.

Prayer meeting will not be held this week on account of Institute. Preaching next Sunday as usual. Sunday School immediately following the morning service.

DEATH OF WORLD WAR VETERAN

Member of Company C, at Bradford, in the National Guard—on Mexican Border, and Overseas in World War.

One of the first deaths to occur in the ranks of the service men of the great war was that of Samuel Schoolmaster, who died last Sunday afternoon at his home a short distance outside of the borough. Sam, as he was affectionately known to his many friends, had been ill for a comparatively short time, but last week his illness took the form of acute peritonitis, and from that time on there was little hope held for his recovery.

The funeral was held Wednesday in Bradford, the exercises being in the charge of Company C, and interment was made, at the request of the deceased, in the family lot in the Bradford cemetery. A delegation of the Bucktail Post, American Legion, of which Mr. Schoolmaster was a charter member, were in attendance at the ceremonies which were marked with full military honors.

Few of the younger men of the community were better known than the deceased, for practically his whole life-time had been passed near here and this had afforded ample opportunity for his manly nature and fine character to win all to him. A member of various military organizations here and in Bradford, and also of the B. P. O. E. and the Modern Woodmen, he will long be remembered as a man's man and a staunch friend.

Mr. Schoolmaster was a member of the old Company C, at Bradford, in the National Guard, and so saw service both on the Mexican Border and overseas in the World War with the other young men of the community who were in that outfit. In his company he ranked as corporal and few were more popular. Returned from the war, he has been constantly employed here and has contributed much to the life of the organizations to which he belonged.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoolmaster, two sisters, Mrs. Irene Sheldon and Mrs. M. Bestwick of Bradford, and his grandfather, Samuel French.

AUSTIN TO SEE THE BUCKTAIL MINSTRELS ON NOVEMBER FIFTH

Friday evening, November 5, has been set for the appearance of the Bucktail Minstels in the new community house at Austin. Members of the cast have been together for practices several times during the past week, and the progress made at these times has been such as to permit the selection of this early date with full assurance that the production will measure up to the standard set here a few months ago.

The program will, of course, be under the auspices of the management of the community building but a liberal financial arrangement has ben made which will make it worth while for the Smethport mintrels to make the trip. The program will not be so long as here to for in order not to interfere with the dance which will be held during the latter part of the evening with Joe Houghton's band of jazz producers to supply the music.

There will undoubtedly be a large number of Smethport people to make the trip, for the evening of minstrel fun and good dancing will be irresistible combination for many. The evening's program is the result of the activity of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mitchell, the popular local entertainer.

POTATO SPRAYING VERY PROFITABLE IN McKEAN CO.

The potatoes were dug in two fields of six which were sprayed for potato blight around Kane. These fields showed an increased profit per acre of from $75 to $100.

The ptatoes on the Glott farm which were unsprayed yielded 278 bushels per acre, of which27% were unmarketable.

The potatoes which were sprayed yielded at the rate of 369 bushels per acre with but 13% unmarketable. This gives an increase per acre due to spraying of 91 bushels.

The potatoes on A. W. Anderson's farm which were unsprayed yielded 283 bushels per acre with 35% unmarketable.

The sprayed part on the Anderson farm yielded 328 bushels per acre, with but 12% unmarketable. This makes a difference in actual weight of potatoes of 45 bushels per acre, but of marketable potatoes it makes a difference of 106 bushels, which is the only result which can be used.

This work was done under the auspices of the Farm Bureau and in every case was witnessed by several farmers.

It is very evident then that every farmer should spray his potatoes, since the spraying, yhich costs a little less than $10 per acre, has increased the crop from 91 to 106 bushels per acre.

Fourth-Class Postmaster Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Smethport, Pa. on November 13, 1920 as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at Colyville and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $342 for the last fiscal year.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first birthday on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a State where women declared by statute to be at full age all purposes at eighteen years, women eighteen years of age on date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the post office for which the examination is announced.

Application blanks, form 1753, and full information concerning requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C., at the earliest practical date.

ARE YOU GETTING YOURS?

All records for cider-making seem to be in a fair way to be broken this year. The new press, for instance, which has been set up on the O. K. Farm below East Smethport, in the two weeks in which it has been in operation has already made over 5,000 gallons. There seem to be two reasons for the sudden revival of interest in this beverage—the great abundance of apples and the desire to make a little apple-jack for home consumption in these prohibition days. It is said that all other cider-presses in the section are equally hard at work, loads of apples being required to stand in line half an hour before they can receive attention.

Why should the Republican papers poke fun at Governor Cox because he sticks so pertinaciously to his programme of abuse of his opponents? He is conducting his fight for the presidency of the United States in the way that he fully believes is best suited to his talents and that, from his standpoint, promises the best results. There is no boubt at all that he very carefully considered the best means, according his abilities, of achieving his ambition, and that he decided that villification and traducement were admirably suited to his style of oratory. And it will readily be admitted that he is the very little villifier who ever sought to reach the presidency by a campaign of misrepresentation and abuse.—Portland (Oreg.)Spectator.

Democrats Should Campaign Europe.

Washington, Oct. 28. The Democrats will have to vote the people of foreign nations if they want to make a showing in this election, thinks the Republican Publicity Association, which, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., isues the following:

"With practicaly all clases of American producers down on the Democratic administration, it is difficult to imagine where the Democratic candidates wil get their votes in the coming election unless they can manage by some hook or crook to vote the people of foreign nations— who seem to be the chief protages of the party that is interested in Internationalism First.

"The grain producers, the cotton producers, the livestock producers and the peanut producers have recently taken formal action to condemn either the deflation methods or the free legislation of the Democratic party— under which these producers are now suffering. With the possible exception of producers of moonshine whiskey, there seems to be no class of enjoying special prosperity by virture of the policies put practice by the party now in power.

"The wool growers are among those who are in a belligerent mood, because of the manner in which Democratic policies have affected them. A recent report from Boston told of the arrival of a carogo of 'woolen regs' which will be reworked and used in the manufacture of 'shoddy' cloth— the re-worked wool taking place of an equal quantity of new wool. The woolen rags came from Germany— presumably rags from clothes that became useless throughlong usage duing the war. These German rags came into the United States duty free, thanks to the Wilson-Underwood tariff law of 1913: Under previous Republican laws the rags would have paid a duty of 10 cents a pound— adding to the funds in the United States Treasury and giving the American sheep owner that measure of protection in perpetuating his industry.

"The fact that the American sheperd's loss is the German rag-man's gain does not tend to diminish the dissatisfaction of the sheep grower who has unsold and unsable wool in his warehouse. When buyers reluctantly examine a farmer's wool and offer a price less than the cost of production, naturaly the American farmer thinks a second time, and not in a very pleasant way, either, of the cargo of German rags that came over under a Democratic free trade law to supplant the newly clipped wool which the American would like to sell in order to pay his government taxes, his wage bills and his high cost of living. The American wool grower pays United States taxes— the German rag-man is encouraged to sell his rags here free.

"In view of a situation like this, not only the wool grower but the wheat grower, the coton grower and the peanut grower, together with a lot of other producers, are geting ready to vote the Republican ticket, and, if they can manage to scrape the money together, they are contrlbuting to that meager Republican campaign fund which Cox has falsely stated as $30,000,000.

"It is evident that the Democratic campaign not only lacks funds— it lacks votes— and the two shortages are due to the same thing— disregard af American interests in order to promote a league of nations and other schemes of internationalism, including a free trade tariff law which promotes the welfare of the foregn producer regardless of what ills may befall American industry and enterprise."

G. O. P. VICTORY IS NOW CERTAIN

State Will Go Overwhelmingly For Ticket.

VOTE IT STRAIGHT, SAYS CROW

State Chairman Calls Attention to Insidious Anti-Penrose Propaganda Aimed to Deceive Women Voters.

Philadelphia, October 26.—Everything is in first-class shape for the polling of a magnificent Republican vote and the securing of the biggest Republican majority in the history of Pennsylvania at the election next Tuesday. The Republican State Committee has made a careful survey of the field, looking into conditions in every county of the commonwealth, and has reached the conclusion that the old Keystone State will stand by the Republican party this year as it has never done before. The air is virtually charged with Republican sentiment and if there are any hopeful Democrats in Pennsylvania, which is doubtful, they will receive the surprise of their life when the returns come in next Tuesday.

SENATOR BOIES PENROSE

The Democrats of Pennsylvania, apparently giving up all hopes of making any showing for Cox in this state, are now engaged in the work of trying to cut down the Penrose vote. Insidious propaganda of all kind and description is being spread broadcast against the leader of the United States Senate, and, who, on account of illness has not been able to make a canvass of the voters during the campaign. Most of these efforts have been directed at Senator Penrose among women voters, the schemers believing that the agitation has a better chance of taking root among persons inexperienced in politics and voting than among the men voters. But thinking women voters, who have been approached, very quickly discovered what was back of the movement and immediately took steps to prevent other female voters from being influenced by this Democratic deception and underhand acts against Senator Penrose.

State Chairman William E. Crow came out this week with a strong appeal to voters to not be misled into voting against Senator Penrose. He pointed out that no man in the United States is needed to back up a Republican administration as is Senator Penrose, whose broad experience and statesmanship have placed him at the head of the United States Senate.

Chairman Crow's statement is as follows:

"After carefully going over the situation in Pennsylvania based on data and other general information received from all the counties, I believe the Republican party, one week from next Tuesday, will win one of the greatest victories in its history. I look for a majority of at least 750,000, the re-election of Senator Penrose by an overwhelming vote, the election of the entire Republican State ticket, as well as the success of more Republican congressmen than we have ever heretofore elected. I also look for a large controlling majority in both the Senate and the House at Harrisburg.

Trying to Deceive Women Voters.

"An attempt is being made to prejudice the women of the state against Senator Penrose because of his position on certain questions. They hope, thereby, to confuse Republican women of the State into splitting their ticket in this important campaign. I trust the women electorate will not be fooled by any such propaganda, Democratic in origin and purpose, which aims to weaken the place and potentiality of the senior Senator. His standing in the councils of his party throughout the nation and his long experience and broad and wise statesmanship and leadership have made him a tower of strength to the Republican party in its solution of State and national issues, and, of consequence, the opposition desires to weaken his hold upon the suffrage of the people of his own state.

"In a Republican administration, Penrose's presence in Washington is of impelling importance to the political and business interests of this great state, and he should be returned with such increased majority as to strengthen his hold upon the confidence of the country. Senator Penrose has been deprived by illness, this year, of an opportunity to meet the voters, upon whom I believe, he has the strongest hold of any man in public life in Pennsylvania, and this condition should urge the Republicans of the state to redouble their efforts in his behalf, and thereby save the Republican woman from being imposed upon by Democratic deception."

WIDOW OF ROOSEVELT URGES ELECTION OF WARREN G. HARDING

In Statement Declares Country's Vital Need Is Victory for Republican Candidates.

FIRST BACK OWN COUNTRY.

Says Opportunity Has Come to Women to "Make Her Influence Mighty in Behalf of Nation."

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, is evincing keen interest in the Republican campaign. She recently gave to the press the following statement urging the election of Harding and Coolidge:

"The country's vital need is the election of the Republican candidates.

MRS. EDITH KERMIT ROOSEVELT.

Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge. Only will the full measure of Americanism in the next Administration be attained, if the people shall declare for the party which holds true nationalism as its high ideal. It is not necessary to forget our duty to our neighbor in doing our duty at home.

"The time appeals most strongly to the manhood and the womanhood of America. To woman more than ever before because to her has come the perfected opportunity to make her influence weighty in behalf of the nation.

"This year as never before, with world conditions as they are, steadiness and staunchness of American purpose are obligatory if we would first bring back our country to its stable place and then by strong endeavor do all that can be done for peace and the general welfare in all lands."

REPUBLICANS INSURE ECONOMICAL CONDUCT

Washington.—Not one man in ten thousand realizes the enormous expenses run up by the present Government. The disbursements are roughly $15,000,000 a day, more than a year after the war. In 1914 the people expostulated because the daily disbursements by the Treasury had reached $2,000,000. How gladly would the people groaning under the impositions of profiteers and the burden of taxes welcome a return to those halcyon days! Congress and the new Administration will have to deal with the reduction of Government expenditures.

The same party that has swelled them returned to power will never reduce them, because it claims the government is being economically administered. The Republican party will delight in reducing these enlarged expenses for clerk hire, and the insatiable bureaus that have been built up into money spending machines. By holding in their hands all lines of expenditures the new Congress and new Executive working together will cut down excessive items and eliminate others to an aggregate of hundreds of millions of dollars.

NATION DEMANDS THOROUGH CHANGE.

Chicago, Oct. —If one were required to name a single factor which is doing more than any other to work toward Republican success in November, he would probably have to say:

Determination of the public to have a change and to get away from Wilsonism.

Reports from all quarters tell of this feeling, at once a desire for a change and a determination to bring it about at the polls November 2.

Whether it be from the central west, the far west, the east or the south, the reports tell of this seeking for a change. The desire for a change is born of dissatisfaction, dislike and disgust felt by the voters toward the Wilson administration and the things it has done and left undone.

Mr. Cox is looked on as a man who if he were elected would follow the track of Mr. Wilson. In fact, he has declared himself in "complete accord" with Mr. Wilson.

The public, by all accounts, is not looking for a man who will go along with Mr. Wilson or the Wilson policies.

SENATOR HARDING PROPOSES WELFARE POST IN CABINET

Tells 12,000 Women He Favors Department in Defense of Mothers, Childhood and Public Health.

TO ADVANCE SOCIAL JUSTICE.

Emphasizes Need of Safeguarding Women on American Farms. Stands for Enforcement of Law.

Marion, O.—The creation of a Federal Department of Public Welfare to function in defense of maternity, childhood and public health was proposed by Senator Harding in a speech on social justice to 5,000 women who came to his front porch from all points of the compass.

Such a department, said Senator Harding, must "avoid the fearful results of bureaucracy. There can be no more efficient way of advancing a humanitarian program," he said, "than by adapting the machinery of our Federal Government to the purposes we desire to attain. While others may have their eyes fixed upon some particular piece of legislation or more particular policy of social justice which calls for the sympathetic interest of us all, I say, without hesitation, that our primary consideration must be the machinery of administration, and that when the time comes for us to reorganize our administrative government in Washington we must all stand together for the creation of a Department of Public Welfare.

"I pledge myself today," he said, "to support with all that is in me whatever practical policy of social welfare and social justice can be brought forward by the combined wisdom of all Americans. Nothing can concern America, and nothing can concern me as an American, more deeply than the health, the happiness and the enlightenment of every fellow American.

Must Avoid Paternalism.

"The social justice that I conceive is not paternalism. It would be easy to make it so, and dangerous indeed to the best spirit that Americans can have—the spirit of expressing by the individual free will one's own merits, capacity and worth. We do not want government to suppress that expression of free will, even by benevolence, but we do mean to preserve in America an equal opportunity and a preparedness for self-expression therein, even though we use the government to do it.

"I believe that there is no step more practical, no step which will mean more to the growth of America's social welfare; no step which will guarantee better America's social justice, than one which I propose to you.

Dangers to Be Avoided.

"I have no doubt that there will be some who will find in this proposal cause for calling me an extremist, but when we have a task to do, which has been dictated by our conscience and approved by our wisdom, let us straightway find the way to do it. I do not say this without a word of caution. I recognize certain dangers which are always presented when government undertakes large and detailed tasks."

Tasks of Social Justice.

Senator Harding pointed out the necessity of going forward upon a sure footing and declared:

"When making the proposal for a department of public welfare to America, I am aware that I have made a step in advance of any platform.

"We all know that we face tasks of social justice, which we must undertake with dispatch and efficiency. Who can suggest one of these tasks which can supersede in our hearts, or in the rank which foresight and wisdom will give that of the protection of our maternity?

"The protection of the motherhood of America can not be accomplished until the state and the nation have enacted and, by their example, have enforced customs, which protect womanhood itself. I know full well that there are women who insist that women shall be treated upon the same basis that men are treated."

Senator Harding discussed the need of adequate protection for women in industry and expressed his belief in the wisdom of an eight-hour day for women workers. He emphasized the need of safeguarding the women on American farms. He proposed putting the Children's Bureau under the suggested Department of Public Welfare, and urged prevention of abuses of child labor.

"I must not fail," Senator Harding went on, "to speak to you today of one of the measures of social justice and social welfare not often catalogued in this manner, but perhaps more important than any we have considered. I refer to the enforcement of law. It will not be my business when elected to decide what laws shall be. It will be legitimate for me to invoke public opinion for their enactment, but such a call to public opinion must be based more upon the duty of the Executive of the nation to give facts to the people than upon his desire to give opinion, theory and propaganda. The enforcement of the law is an Executive responsibility and must be undertaken by the Executive without regard for his personal approval or disapproval of the law, which it has been the people's will to enact."

BECOME A FRESH-AIR CRANK

When Your Rooms Get Stale, Stuffy and Foul Smelling Open All Doors and Windows.

When you come in from outdoors and find the air in your rooms stale and stuffy and foul smelling, open the windows wide and let in plenty of fresh air from outside. Open the door, too, so that the fresh air can freely enter.

Become a fresh-air crank—even at the risk of being disliked. Better a live fresh-air crank than an almost lifeless hothouse invalid.

Do all you can to avoid crowds in closed or poorly ventilated rooms. Not only does the bad air lower your resistance, but you are in danger of catching disease from others.

Don't ride in a crowded street car when you are going only a short distance. Walk!

Walk a mile in the open air twice a day. It will add ten years to your life; if you don't believe it, try it and see.

Keep the windows of your bedroom wide open, day and night, even in winter. You can't overdose yourself with fresh air, and disease germs can't endure it.

When Your Blood is Rich and Red People Notice Your Good Health

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS HEALTH

Pale Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping Shoulders, Result From Clogged Blood

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling. When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better—your lips are red, eyes wide and bright; your good feeling shows in your actions.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with no appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gudes" The full name, "Gudes Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package. Advertisement.

FEDERAL ROAD BUILDING AID

Highway Construction Hampered by Transportation Difficulties and Lack of Material.

In addition to $10,000,000 for forest road construction, congress has made available to July 1, 1920, the sum of $275,000,000 for federal aid roads. Of this sum $175,000,000 was available up to and including June 30, 1920. Of this amount the states had made application covering $152,193,040 as of April 30. This federal aid is to apply on 27,796 miles of road estimated to cost $335,754,700. As of May 1st 13,540 miles of federal aid road were under construction, involving over $80,000,000 in federal aid. The total mileage of completed road built under the federal aid law since it became operative in 1916 is 4,301.15 miles, as of May 1, 1920, an average rate of construction of over 1,000 miles a year.

The difficulties of transportation, the lack of materials; the insufficient number of contracting organizations, the scarcity of adequate equipment and the general shortage of engineering personnel in connection with highway construction during the past two years have reduced road building activities to about 3-7 of the full program. The bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture is ready, the states are ready, the funds are available to push highway construction on a 100 per cent program as soon as the national economic conditions will warrant.

MAINTENANCE OF DIRT ROAD

Essential That No Water Be Permitted to Remain on Surface—Repair Ruts Quickly.

To maintain an earth road so that it will adequately take care of heavy traffic it is essential first that no water be allowed to stand on the road surface or in the ditches, and secondly that defects occurring in the surface be repaired immediately and in a manner that will form a crust sufficient to maintain the loads and resist the wear caused by traffic.

The first can be accomplished only by grading and draining the road in a manner that will permit water to drain quickly from the surface after every rain, and the second by adding clay and sand in the proper proportions as required, shaping up the surface with a light grader, and keeping the traveled surface smooth and even with the road planer, after which the earth surface eventually becomes smooth and impervious to water. The result is an extremely satisfactory road at a very low cost to the public.

SAVE KANSAS MANY DOLLARS

Engineering Experiment Station Tests All Materials to Be Used in Road Building.

The road materials laboratory of the Kansas engineering experiment station is in charge of the testing of all materials for use on federal aid roads in the state of Kansas. More than 75 car loads of defective cement and bricks submitted for test in the past year have been rejected, thus saving the state many thousands of dollars.

FINANCING SYSTEM OF ROADS

Proper Procedure of County or District Is Matter Open for Much Discussion.

Just how a county or district should proceed to finance a system of roads is a matter open for discussion. It depends upon how rapidly they need them and upon how well they are able to pay, in other words on their valuation and the cost of the work contemplated.

Crown for Earth Roads.

Well maintained earth roads need very little crown. The wider and flatter the earth road, the better, if it has good drainage and is kept constantly smooth.

To Control Weevils.

PROHIBITION PARTY ACTIVE

Because the Prohibition (18th) and Suffrage (19th) Amendments have been secured through its efforts, is no reason for it to quit the field. The Republican party continues 56 years after its efforts for the 14th and 15th Amendments succeded.

Other parties necessarily declare for the Constitution and for the enforcement of law. But no other party nor presidenal candidate declares for the Maintenance or Strengthening of the Volstead Act to enforce Prohibition. The Prohibition party delayed its National Convention and their candidates a full, free chance. They have dodged. So we nominated Watkins and Colvin, the only men with the courage of their convictions, and the only sincere friends of keeping the U. S. Dry. Long after that, Watkins and Colvin offered to withdraw if either Cox and Roosevelt or Harding and Coolidge would pledge themselves to oppose increase in alcoholic content of beverages and for stregthening of the Volstead Enforcement act. They would not.

We are endorsing Congressmen and Legislators of other parties who supported Prohibition - Submission, Ratification and Enforcement. In this County our ticket carries Jones (Rep.) for Congress, Baldwin (Rep.) for State Senate and Catlin (Rep. and Pro.) and Fitzgibbon (Rep.) for Assembly.

Our unselfish, broad-minded liberality goes still arther. To oppose Penrose, the arch enemy of Prohibition and progressive measures, the Prohibition Party nominated for U. S. Senate Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion who at the time was a member of the Republican Women's State Committee. Mrs. Marion for a number of years has been state treasurer of the State W. C. T. U. In private life she is a devoted wife and mother but, her daughter having grown up she is able to devote to public affairs her brilliant mind and earnest, active capable son. Pennsylvania will be proud of such a successor to a man like Penrose.

From among the progressive planks of the Prohibition platform, Mrs. Marion has taken her stand most firmly on its demand for Industrial Peace. It reads: "We believe the time has come for the government to assume responsibility for the protection of the public against the waste and terror of industrial warfare, and to that end we demand legislation defining the rights of labor and the operation of industrial courts which will guarantee to labor and employing capital equal and exact justice and to the general public protection against the paralysis of industry due to this warfare."

Even if Mrs. Marion should fail to defeat Penrose, every vote cast for her will serve as notice to Congress and the Pennsylvania Legislature that there is a strong and rising sentiment in favor of the Industrial Court whereby workingmen and their employers need never resort to the present barbarous methods of strike and lockout to settle their grievances. "Let us Have Peace."

In the U. S. Senate, Mrs. Marion being a Christian, and a mother as well as a patriot, will support our plank reading: "We favor the entrance of the United States into the league by the immediate ratification of the treaty of peace, not objecting to reasonable reservation interpreting the American understanding of the covenant."

For Mrs. Marion's photo and Prohibition platform write to

The Means to an End of Waste Space

A few panels of Beaver Board, a little wood trim, a hammer, nails and saw—all you need to cover up old cracked plaster and wallpaper and put new life into any part of the house.

Beaver Board plays a major part in this worthwhile operation. While it is covering up unsightly cracks and dingy wallpaper it is providing a surface for painting and decorating, and ending the wall and ceiling question once and for all time.

Beaver Board is built up into large flawless panels from strong, pure wood fibres. When you have lived with it you will know why it is displacing lath and plaster in new houses and putting new life into old ones.

H. S. TEAM BADLY DEFEATED BY THE PORTVILLE H. S.

Over confidence spelled disaster for the high school football team in their return game with Portville high school at Portville last Saturday. The New York school with the aid of two players who were added to the line-up for the special purpose of taking Smethport into camp, simply walked over our boys to the tune of 34-0.

The game was spoiled by wrangling that went on continually between the 2 games and several times the play had to be halted for the officials to iron out the difficulties. Therewas no question but both teams wanted the game, but the Portville boys played far the harder and with much greater determination, while it appeared that Smethport was relying too much on reputation and greater weight. Certain it is that no one of the local men, with the exception of Raymond Hull at center, played a game strong enough to entitle him to a place on the team.

Faced by a team that outweighed them and generally speaking, had had greater experience, the Portville boys outplayed Smethport in every branch of the game. This much must be handed the New Yorkers. They were able to gain apparently at will through the line, at the ends, and by forward passes, and in fact used several of Smethport's own plays, which they learned at the game here a month ago. The one fly in their ointment is the fact that they used help to which they were not entitled by the contract which they had signed.

Perhaps the Smethport boys should be excused on the grounds that they had an off day. At least they crowded into the game enough poor work to last a whole season; plays that are always ground-gainers went wrong, the backfield could not get organized, and the line resembled anything but a stone-wall for their lighter opponents.

The trip to Portville was made in cars owned by C. C. Choate, A. J. Hyatt, Mark Pomeroy, Fred Gallup and Harry Hull ,to all of whom the boys are indebted, as their generosity made it possible for the athletic association to save the ful guarantee.

the other two which will convict him.

The story, as pieced out from the words of the county officers and the prisoners themselves, is about as follows:

The three left Salamanca a week ago Sunday in a Ford car; arrived at Steamburg, midway between Salamanca and Jamestown the lights gave out, and they caught a frieght to Cory where they spent the night. The next morning they rode on to Meadville. A report has it that Chief Dowdell of the Meadville Fire Department saw the three men in the city, and regonized them as being of a suspicious bearing.

The Stearns car was stolen Monday night some time after 6:30, when the owner placed it in his garage near the house after a ride in the country From Meadvile the trio headed North and appear to have been constantly on the go until they arrived here. The speedometer of the car, which was a Nash 1918 model, showed that they had covertd ever 700 miles and the boys themselves tell of having been all over northern Pennsylvania and southern New York. The car when found contained two fireman's rubber coats belonging to the company at Silver Springs, N. Y., a fact which gives another point touched by their journey.

Marino claimed to the other boys that he had a companion who would be able to get rid of their cars, and volunteered the information when in Johnsonburg that it would be a good idea to leave there as two state policemen were in that place at the time and to come on to Smethport where he had heard there were several good cars which, if successfully stolen would bring a good price.

Acting on his advice, they came here Friday night and loated the Redfield car. Their Nash had been acting badly and they determined to leave it here and travel in the car they would steal. Securing the necessary tools from the garage of Dr. W. A. Ostrander, they broke into the Redfield garage, took the sedan, and were soon out of town.

They claim that in Jamestown they were met by Marino's helper, who said that he could sell the car, but first they had to change the license plates from those issued by Pennsylvania to those issued by New York. One story has it that they performed this act in the city streets, but at any rate some one saw what they were doing, became suspicious, and notified the city police force. Immediately after this the auto thieves had hard luck again, for they ran into a large truck.

The description of the sedan and those in it reported to the police had been accurate and proved to be adequate, for the three who had deserted the car in the street after the collision were rounded up within an hour. Seeing that the jig was up, Kightlinger and Jageacks told their story and the Smethport parties were called on the phone.

The Redfield car is again in Smethport and is not much the worse for its journey, as the collision failed to do much damage. The Nash car is a little the worse for wear, but has been repaired and returned to Meadville.

Kightlinger aided the authorities in the recovery of much of the fancy work that had been in the car when stolen and which was the property of St. Christopher's Guild. Some of the other contents of the car, however, are gone, as they were disposed of in the fear that they might aid in the identification of the car.

After all evidence had been turned in, Justice of the Peace Gleason bound over all three prisoners for the next term of court, with bail fixed at $1,000. As this was not provided the three are now in jail. Kightlinger and Jageacks plead guilty to the charge, but Marino kept up his story of his innocence.

All three have serious charges against them since they involve the theft of two cars, and the crossing of the state line with a stolen car, which will perhaps bring federal action against them.
